the council district convention, the Fourteenth representative district convention composed of Pueblo and El Paso counties, will appoint a legates for said fourteenth representative district.

The delegates of the fifth representative district, composed of the counties of Colfax and Boulder, will meet at Black Hawk on Monday, the 21st, at 2 o'clock P. M., and appoint delegates for that representative district.

By order of the Democratic Central Committee, C. C. Post, Secretary, of the Arapahoe County Committee, Eben Smith, Chairman, and of the Union Central Committee Lucian Mullin, Chairman.

[All Democratic papers in the territory are requested to publish these calls to date.]

FROM LOUDER COUNTY.

On Saturday evening last, the kind proprietor of our friend Capt. D. H. Nichols, of the Boulder House, gave a complimentary dinner to the Captain and his many friends, on the occasion of his pleasant and hospitable reception of the Captain and friends on the early settlers of the valley, and I have accurately heard of no occasion which has called together a more pleasant and happy company. Among the many toasts given on the occasion, I have only room for the following, which I have taken from the Boulder County News:

FROM THE MIDDLE PARK.

We have word from Maj. Oaks' party, up to Monday last. They were then encamped on Troublesome Creek, eighteen miles beyond the Hot Springs. They would follow the Berthoud survey until they met Gen. Hughes, and then turn south to the Grand River, to locate the Indian Reservation.

There were some Indians in the Park, but they are very friendly, and Major Whiteley says no danger need be apprehended. There were no white men about the springs. The trails are good, but Mr. Mellroum, who came back, thinks wagons will have great difficulty in getting over the Berthoud Pass.

To-Day's Advertisements.

To all whom it may Concern

On the [illegible] day of March inst. Captain James Hunter started a dog for sale, with one hind leg broken, and four children, viz: Captain Davenport (by name) as agent for the Denver Mail & Express, all of which were taken away by the said Captain and Daniel Mason by virtue of a writ of Mining Attachment issued by the Probate Court of Mining Attachments in and for Arapahoe County, Colorado Territory, on the 21st day of March A. D. 1865, and directed to the Sheriff of said County of Arapahoe, commanding him to attach the said dog and puppies, and safely keep the same, so that he may have them before the said Probate Court on the 1st day of April A. D. 1865, to answer the complaint of Daniel Mason, in a plea of trover and conversion, and to be further dealt with according to law and justice. And whereas, by virtue of said writ, the said Sheriff did

THE SOUTH.

[illegible] Edition of [illegible] the Federal [illegible] great change [illegible] the rulers of [illegible] portion of our country have been [illegible] slaveholding aristocracy, who formed but a small part of the southern population. Aside from this ruling power, the mass of the people were wretchedly poor and [illegible] ignorant. The slaveocracy controlled this ignorant mass, and whatsoever measures they wanted were adopted by the people. Of course they gave some incidental advantages to the people for their compliance. This the slaveocracy in order to retain their hold upon the popular favor. It was necessary to keep up a continual agitation in regard to southern rights in order to carry the masses with them in secession. The northern reader who looks over the history of either of the old slaveholding States, will be astonished to see how, for the past twenty years or more, the same men have filled the official positions, both in State and Federal Government. There has been no rotation in office there as it is at the North. There was rarely a political change, and when they did occur it was only a trade off between the same class. Men did not rise from the masses as they do in the north, by their superior worth, but they came into public notice only by the introduction and helpings of leaders whose opinions the rising man was obliged to endorse, and to whom he must be pledged to assist in all ambitious projects. It was a clique rule in the greatest perfection that the world has ever possessed.

This reign of cliques is now over. It ended with the death of slavery. Parties will now be formed in which common interest and popular sentiment shall have control. Labor, which has hitherto been deemed mean and disgraceful, shall be elevated to the standard of dignity and true manhood. The masses shall no more be shut out from political knowledge, and the party lines and differences shall be as broadly drawn and understood as they are at the North. The poorest white man shall have his equal vote, and consequent equal influence, at the polls as the wealthy. This purification of the political atmosphere of the South shall regenerate the poor classes, and they, having been educated in the bitter school of experience, can never again be cliqued or [illegible]. Our southern news already shows the correctness of the opinions herein advanced. The old high-toned leaders can no longer influence the people. Men from the masses are crowding into public view, speaking and voting for themselves. The southern branches of the great tree of liberty, hitherto blasted by the breath of slavery, are putting on a new and glorious growth, and the states which attained so much wealth and influence, even under a reign of tyranny and misrule, have a future of equal rights to all men opening before them that shall astound the world in the glory of its consummation.

THE ARREST OF SQUIRES.

Las Vegas, N. M., August 2, 1865.

Messrs. Editors:—In your paper of the 19th of July, in answer to my communication of July 4th, which you were kind enough to publish, concerning the arrest of Squires, you say that the statement made by me was from the most reliable information, believed to be incorrect, and that Squires was not taken into custody by any other than Lieut. Cannon and his command, and you further most ungenerously insinuate that a pecuniary consideration prompted my action in this matter; in other words, that I lied for, or in the hope of making money; a speculating dodge.

Lieut. Cannon, when living, was, for all I know to the contrary, a worthy officer and estimable gentleman, but if he or anyone told you that Squires was not arrested by the parties mentioned in my letter, he or they stated what is absolutely and positively false, as the sworn and subscribed affidavits, which have been cheerfully given and which I herewith enclose, will abundantly testify. You state that Lieut. Cannon had been [illegible] previously, and had given information sufficient to secure his arrest. Such is not the case. He, Lieut. D, had not been here before on this business at all. If the very peculiar movements of the man Squires upon his arrest like and while at large in this [illegible] had not excited suspicion which subsequently led to his arrest by the parties before mentioned he would have made good his escape, and Lieut. Cannon would never have been the wiser, for he had apparently suspended all further action in the affair, and was quietly taking his ease at the fort.

Captain Morton paid a discharged [illegible] soldier by name [illegible] who happened [illegible] at the time, "ten dollars for his services as guard, besides soliciting and procuring the additional assistance of two citizens, and the prisoner was confined and forcibly detained until information could reach Fort Union,—from whence came Lieutenant Cannon, under [illegible] his superior officer, to conduct [illegible] prisoner to that Post—if this was not an arrest, I dont know what it is—the cost of guard, expressman and hotel bill amounts to the sum of $35.00, which the parties paid, as I believe, without the expectation of future [illegible].

I deny [illegible] it is any particular [illegible] [illegible] that any [illegible] know that it is very commendable for one to lay claim to something which properly belongs to [illegible] [illegible] he had no hand in [illegible]. Lieutenant Cannon, as an officer of the Government, did nothing [illegible] [illegible] of the Government; and at the expense of the Government he had [illegible] himself, individually, [illegible] the same affidavits may or may not have been [illegible]. The whole thing amounts to a bill of [illegible] [illegible] further post but for the [illegible] me in rather [illegible] before those to [illegible] and I feel that I [illegible] myself [illegible] desired to [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

SPECIAL NOTICES.

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

THIRD SERIES.

$230,000,000

By [illegible] the General Information Agent for the sale of United States Securities, offers to the public the third series of Treasury Notes, bearing interest at the rate of seven and three-tenths per cent. per annum, known as the

7-30 LOAN.

These notes are dated as of date of July 15, 1865, and are payable three years from that date in currency, or are convertible at the option of the holder into

U. S. 5-20 Six per cent.

GOLD-BEARING BONDS

The notes are now worth a handsome premium, and are exempt, as are all other issues of Bonds, from [illegible] of National taxation. They can be disposed of at par in sums from one to three per cent. per annum less than other securities of equal grade, and are convertible at the option of the holder into Bonds bearing six per cent. interest in gold. The interest is payable semi-annually by coupons attached to each note, which may be cashed at sight at any bank or banker.

The notes are issued in the following denominations:

One cent per day on a $50 note.
Two cents per day on a $100 note.
Ten cents per day on a $500 note.
20 cents per day on a $1,000 note.
One dollar per day on a $5,000 note.

Notes of all the denominations named will be exchanged for subscriptions, to such amounts as may be desired by subscribers, at par, on application to the undersigned. The Notes of this Loan are receivable in payment of all dues to the United States except duties on imports, and are exempt from taxation by or under State, municipal or local authority. The interest [illegible] semi-annually on the first days of January and July in each year, and the principal will be paid at maturity. The Secretary of the Treasury [illegible] to sell the notes at par, and [illegible] interest to the day of delivery. —— Maj. Scott J. Anthony arrived in the city to-day, in company with several other officers, whose names we did not learn.

—— Capt. Geo. West and lady, arrived to-day with the advance of the Smoky Hill expedition. The Captain and lady, will be welcomed by hosts of friends.

—— G. W. Bacon and S. F. Cort, have succeeded Daniels & Co., and will open a Staple and Fancy dry goods establishment next door to the New York Store, on Larimer street, to-morrow.

—— The opening of "The National" to-day was a crowded affair. Everybody and his brother was there. It is going to be the great resort of the city, and in fact weather it the most delightfully cool place within the limits of Denver.

ERRATA.—In a notice of the opening of the National, in Saturday's News that institution was called Billiard Rooms. Readers please understand that there are as yet no Billiards in the concern.

—— A drove of 182 horses, from California, bound for this market, arrived on Clear Creek and camped last night within four miles of the city. Some horse thief or thieves stampeded part of the drove during the night, and about a half dozen head were missing when our informant was at the camp.

—— Everybody is incredulous as to our having merchants in Denver who know how to keep store, we advise such to call at the New York Store and learn of a verity that we have those who excel anything in America, or anywhere else in the world. Follow the crowd and you will be sure to find the place.

—— We had the pleasure of a call to-day from our old friend and fellow-citizen, Lieut. Burrell, late Commissary of the 2d Colorado Cavalry. He came through with the Butterfield expedition from Fort Riley, via Rocky Hill, and speaks favorably of that route. He was looking hale and hearty after his three years' service in the war, and was on his way to his mountain home in Central City.

The First National Bank of Denver is now in operation, and prepared to do a general banking business. Collections will receive prompt attention, and remittances made on day of payment. Parties having business requiring the services of a banker are solicited to call. Interest allowed on time deposits. Exchange on the principal cities of the United States for sale. Accounts will be kept with merchants and others, and checks drawn regularly. Our facilities for the transaction of business are such as to warrant us in soliciting a share of the public patronage.

All business will receive prompt attention, and we hope by strict attention to the interests of our customers to merit a liberal share of their patronage.

Interest allowed on time deposits. Exchange on the principal cities of the United States for sale.

A liberal line of discounts will be given to regular depositors to [illegible] at [illegible] rates.

The expedition started from Fort Riley in Kansas, on the 4 h of July and were detained by military requirements and high water about ten days. They established cattle stations, for the company's freight trains, every sixty or seventy miles, where changes in ox teams are to be made. Within five days, work will be commenced at putting up stations on every ten or fifteen miles of the route.

The assistant superintendent has forty head of mules now here, to stock the stations at this end of the road, and the balance will be stocked as fast as possible. It were difficult for our citizens to over estimate the great commercial advantages that will accrue to Colorado by a railroad or be sufficiently commend the energy and enterprise which the Butterfield Company is directing to the development of our best and most important interests.

We have been surprised at the rapidity with which the execution of the contract between Washburne and others, and the approval of these streets by the President, will find a parallel in the case of Perceval, Prime Minister of England, in 1812. His trial came on at the Old Bailey on May 9th, the 11th. He was at once found guilty, and was executed at 5 o'clock on the morning of May 18th, the 18th a full week from the date of the fatal decision once expired.

We heard one of these convicted sinners of the Democracy talking on this question the other day, and rejoiced exceedingly at his awakening, entertaining hopes that it may lead to his being soundly converted to a full and complete knowledge and appreciation of political truth and honesty.

After accepting that the negro must have, and in justice is entitled to, the right of suffrage, he said that in order that they might use this right knowingly and understandingly, there should be an educational qualification, requiring that they should know how to read and write before being accepted and endowed with this right of citizenship.

We perfectly agree with him in this plan, on condition, however, that the same educational qualification be required of white men also. Let this be done, and the trump of doom to the Democratic party is sounded. Had this qualification for the right of suffrage been required in times past, some of the darkest and most damning pages in American history had not been written, as the party which through the aid of the ignorant got into power, would have been defeated.

NEW YORK, July 31.—The Herald's Toronto correspondent says the feeling of the Canadians, in favor of the annexation of their province to this country, is gradually growing and strengthening, notwithstanding some drawbacks with which it met in the late commercial Convention at Detroit. It is said that the contrast presented by the business activity on one side of the border and the absence of it on the other, is now even more marked than at any former time, and it is believed that unless the Provincial Parliament does something at its next session, giving promise of improvement by the Canadians, the annexation storm will break out with fury.

The Times' Mexican correspondent says that Dr. Gwyn is now in Texas, or at least in Matamoras, predicting the downfall of the Emperor and the Empire. His first step in that design will be to take the oath of allegiance to the United States.

General Stone is also going from Mexico. He did not accomplish anything as far as I am aware. He may thank his keeping company with Gwyn for his want of success. However, in justice to the General, let me say that of my own knowledge I know that he still loves the old flag and has always, while in Mexico, assumed an absence from political allusions.

The Tribune's Nashville correspondent says: The work of the bloody battles fought at Dalton, and many other points along the line to Atlanta, must be seen on every point. The land is laid waste, the inhabitants are gone. Our train brought and dropped several families by the way-side, who come here to find only their chimneys standing. At one place, a family was seen with their scanty furniture under a tree, near where the house had been. Hundreds of families are houseless all over this country, and have no crops growing for their future support. The first and only clover-field I saw in the State was near Dalton. It looked finely.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Mr. Chase has returned from his trip South, and it is said his observation of the condition of society existing where he has been, induces the belief that the black is destined to be the ruling race throughout the land of the slaveholding States, and that the whites are demoralized and ... The blacks are vigorous, progressive, and bound to become the dominant people in less than a quarter of a century. The members appointed a committee to inform Gov. Pierpont of the prohibition.

The President of the Petersburg R. R. Company has been notified by the U. S. Marshal that he has seized the shares of stock of that road belonging to J. A. Seddon and 13 others.

NEW YORK, July 31.—A fire in Williamsburg this morning destroyed 14 dwellings on Linden Place and Sanford street, occupied by families of the middle and lower classes. The firemen found in one of the buildings a quantity of counterfeit dies and plates of fractional currency, and a box of partly finished fifty cents notes.

WASHINGTON, July 31.—It is confidently reported that the President has made Gov. Wells, of Louisiana, Provisional Governor. Also that the full control of that State may be obtained, and rebels prevented holding office. The last of the ninth corps was mustered out on Monday.

A number of Federal appointees in the southern States have been unable to execute their bonds and take the required oath that they have never voluntarily borne arms or given aid and comfort or encouragement to persons engaged in armed hostilities against the United States, and that they have not yielded a voluntary support to the late rebel government.

FORTRESS MONROE, July 30.—Gen. Miles returned from the Eastern shore last evening. It is understood that place is no longer to be a military post.

The Mayor of Portsmouth was arrested by order of Gen. Mann, commanding that sub-district, said to be for some interference with military law or military court matter.

NEW YORK, July 31.—The steamer Chase brings Havana dates to the 27th. The Havana Herald correspondent details a tour to Darien, ... St. Marys, Georgia, and Fernandina, Jacksonville, Picalata and Palantka, Florida. At each place he found the people had suffered much from the war, and but little evidence on their part of efforts of making repairs upon their much damaged and badly battered towns. People are scarce and money is more so. Darien is a mass of ruins. At Brunswick there was no business, and people only a few soldiers from the backwoods and lolling negroes. The same was the case at St. Marys, Fernandina, Jacksonville and Picolata, but the interior of Florida is much less injured than the places on the sea coast, and it is said that there is much more bacon, sugar, molasses, etc., in the State than for a number of years. The people, generally, are cheerful, and appear satisfied with the new state of affairs.

OFFICIAL.

LAWS OF THE UNITED STATES,

Passed at the Second Session of the Thirty-eighth Congress.

CHAPTER LXXVIII.

An Act to amend an act entitled "an act to provide Internal Revenue to support the Government, to pay Interest on the public debt, and for other purposes," approved June thirtieth, eighteen hundred and sixty-four.

That section one hundred and sixty be amended by inserting before the word "injury" the word "accidental," and by striking out the words "while traveling;" also by striking out after the words "nor on certificates" the word "or," and inserting in lieu thereof the word "of," and by striking out the words "other articles," and inserting in lieu thereof the word "hay."

That section one hundred and sixty five be amended by striking out in the proviso the words "act contained," and inserting in lieu thereof the word "section."

That section one hundred and sixty seven be amended by striking out the word "or" where it occurs the second time, and inserting after the word "sell" the words "expose for sale."

That section one hundred and sixty eight be amended by striking out the words "lucifer or friction matches and cigar lights or wax tapers."

That section one hundred and sixty nine be amended by inserting after the words "who shall offer," the words "or expose," and by inserting after the words "so offered" the words "or exposed;" and by inserting in the proviso after the words "imported articles," the words "except lucifer or friction matches, cigar lights and wax tapers."

That "Schedule B, pre e ing section one hundred and seventy one, be amended in the paragraph marked 'receipts,' by inse ting after the word 'property,' the words except receipts issued by any persons, firms, or companies doing business as an express or express company on the delivery of any property for transportation," and that "Schedule C," preceding section one hundred and seventy one, be amended in the paragraphs concerning "playing cards," by striking out, wherever it occurs, the word "retail." Add at the end of the paragraph marked "receipts" the following: "Provided, That when two or more persons or all go in the same receipt, one or more stamps, equal in value to the several stamps required by this act, may be affixed to said receipt in lieu of several stamps."

That "Schedule B," preceding section one hundred and seventy one, be further amended by striking out the word "petroleum" in the proviso in the clause taxing "beverages," &c., and also by adding to the following: "And provided further, That upon each and every assignment of any lease a stamp duty shall be required and paid equal to that imposed on the original instrument, if covered by a stamp duty on the consideration or value of the assignment equal to that imposed upon the conveyance of land for similar consideration or value."

That section one hundred and seventy one be amended by inserting before the words "refined coal oil," the words "crude petroleum or rock oil," and after the words "all descriptions," by inserting the words "bullion, quicksilver, lucifer or friction matches, cigar lights and wax tapers."

That section one hundred and seventy nine be amended by striking therefrom the words "of a collector or deputy collector," and by adding at the end of the words "use of the United States," the words "and where any penalty is paid without suit, or before judgment, and a moiety of the same is claimed by any person as informer, the Secretary of the Treasury, on application to him, under such regulations as he shall prescribe, shall determine whether any claimant is entitled to such moiety and to whom the same shall be paid."

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That from and after the passage of this act the proviso to section one hundred and sixty nine of the act to which this act is an amendment shall not be held to apply to lucifer matches, friction matches, or other articles made in part of wood and used for like purposes, nor to cigar lights and wax tapers.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That from and after the thirtieth day of June, eighteen hundred and sixty-five, the gross amount of all duties, taxes, and revenues received or collected by virtue of the several acts to provide internal revenue to support the government and to pay the interest on the public debt, and of any other act or acts that may now or hereafter be in force connected with the internal revenues, shall be paid by the officers, collectors, or agents receiving or collecting the same, daily into the treasury of the United States, under the instructions of the secretary of the Treasury, without any abatement or deduction on account of salary, compensation, fees, costs, charges, expenses or claims of any description whatever, anything in any law to the contrary notwithstanding. And all moneys now directed by law to be paid to the commissioner of internal revenue, including those derived from the sale of stamps, shall be paid into the treasury of the United States by the party making such payment; and a certificate of such payment stating the name of the depositor and the specific account on which the deposit was made, signed by the treasurer, assistant treasurer, designated depositary, or proper officer of a deposit bank, and transmitted to and received by the commissioner of internal revenue shall be deemed a compliance with the law requiring payment to be made to the commissioner, any law to the contrary notwithstanding; Provided, That in districts where, from the distance of the officer, collector, or agent receiving or collecting such duties, taxes, and revenues from a proper government depository, the Secretary of the Treasury may deem it proper, he may extend the time for making such payment, not exceeding, however, in any case, the period of one month.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That so much money as may be necessary for the payment of the lawful expenses, incident to carrying into effect the various acts relating to the assessment and collection of the internal revenues after the thirtieth day of June, eighteen hundred and sixty-five, until the first day of July eighteen hundred and sixty six, and not otherwise provided for, be, and the same is hereby appropriated from any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated. And it shall be the duty of each of the collectors of internal revenue as the Secretary of the Treasury may direct to act as disbursing agents to pay the aforesaid expenses, without increased compensation therefor, and to give good and sufficient bonds and sureties for the faithful performance of their duties as such disbursing agents, in such sum and form as shall be prescribed by the first comptroller of the treasury and approved by the Secretary.

Sec. 5. And be it further enacted, That in addition to the duties imposed in section ninety-four of the act to which this is an amendment, as hereinbefore amended, there shall be levied, collected, and paid upon the goods, wares, and merchandize therein mentioned, except as hereinafter otherwise provided, an increase of one fifth or twenty per centum of the duties or rates of duty now provided in said section, whether ad valorem or specific: Provided, That the additional duties or rates of duty herein mentioned shall not apply to coal illuminating oil, refined and naphtha, benzine and benzole, wood screws, paper of all descriptions, printed books, magazines, pamphlets, reviews, and similar publications, cotton, manufactured tobacco, snuff, cigars, cigarettes, and cheroots.

Sec. 6. And be it further enacted, That every national banking association, state bank, or state banking association, shall pay a tax of ten per centum on the amount of notes of any state bank or State banking association, paid out by them after the first day of July, eighteen hundred and sixty-six.

Sec. 7. And be it further enacted, That any existing bank organized under the laws of any state, having a paid-up capital of not less than seventy five thousand dollars which shall apply before the first day of July next for authority to become a national bank under the act entitled "An act to provide a national currency secured by a pledge of United States bonds, and to provide for the circulation and redemption thereof," approved June third, eighteen hundred and sixty four, and shall comply with all the requirements of said act, shall, if such bank be found by the comptroller of the currency to be in good standing and credit, receive such authority in preference to new associations applying for the same: Provided, That it shall be lawful for any bank or banking association organized under state laws, and having branches, the capital being joint and assigned to and used by the mother bank and branches in definite proportions, to become a national banking association in conformity with existing laws, and to retain and keep in operation its branches, or such one or more of them as it may elect to retain; the amount of the circulation redeemable at the mother bank and each branch to be regulated by the amount of capital assigned to and used by each.

HEADQUARTERS DIST OF THE PLAINS,
FORT LARAMIE, D. T., July 25, 1865.

CIRCULAR,
No 11.

During the absence of the General Commanding on the Powder River Indian Expedition, he places the utmost confidence in the ability of his Sub-District Commanders to protect the Overland mail, telegraph, freighters, emigrants and settlers within their respective Sub-Districts.

It is possible that the hostile Indians now north of these Head Quarters may, in small bands, attempt to gain the rear of the advancing columns of the Powder River Indian Expedition and commit depredations upon the mail and telegraph roads. While it is thought that these roads are now, or soon will be, sufficiently protected against all efforts they may make it is deemed advisable, and Sub-District Commanders are instructed accordingly, to be always prepared to concentrate a sufficient force to immediately pursue and chastise any band of Indians who may exhibit enough temerity to venture upon such a proceeding.

Troops should always have on hand twenty (20) days rations of ground coffee, hard bread and bacon, (with a plentiful supply of salt,) to be carried on their horses, so that they can be moved out promptly upon receiving any information of hostile Indians. Care should also be taken to have on hand a supply of ammunition.

Officers commanding expeditions thus ordered out, will not leave a trail after once striking it until they have overtaken and punished the Indians. To accomplish this object the commands will be supplied with an extra issue of salt, in order when rations are exhausted, the men may kill what game the country affords and subsist upon it. Any officer who abandons a trail without first exhausting every means to overtake and punish the Indians, (even if it becomes necessary to subsist upon horse flesh,) will be recommended for dismissal from the service.

Hostile Indians will be pursued and punished without reference to Sub-District lines. The war must be prosecuted with the utmost vigor and energy. By this means only can we expect a lasting and beneficial peace. Parleys will not be held with the Indians. They must first be severely chastised and given to understand that punishments, and not presents as heretofore, will in future be meted to them for their crimes. By such a course alone can we hope for a peace of any duration. They have massacred our men, women and children—burned, stolen and otherwise destroyed our property, and committed outrages upon innocent women which sicken the soul and crush the pleadings of mercy. They are now to feel that by good conduct only can they be saved from annihilation, before we will listen to any terms with them.

No outrages will be perpetrated upon their women and children, neither will they be killed. They will be taken prisoners and held by the Military authority, subject to further orders from these or superior Head Quarters.

The General Commanding relies upon the active, prompt and cheerful co operation of every officer and soldier in this District, during the coming campaign. All available troops must be continually moving, either in pursuit or search of hostile Indians.

The mail escorts will be never less than four men—more, if necessary. The escorts will always remain within three hundred yards of the coach.

Troops, when passing along the telegraph line, will promptly repair the wire and poles whenever required, without waiting for orders to do so.—Commanding officers will furnish prompt assistance to telegraph operators to repair the line when down, and they will report to these Head Quarters any operator who fails promptly to report breaks on the line and to call for necessary assistance to repair them.

The Head Quarters of the District will remain at Fort Laramie, D. T., to which point all reports, returns, correspondence, etc., will be directed as heretofore.

Brig. General Comdg.

NEGRO SUFFRAGE IN MASSACHUSETTS.

The Republican State Committee of Massachusetts has issued an address to the people, which speaks of negro suffrage thus:

"Loyalty, as everybody admits, must be insisted on as the indispensable qualification of all voters, no matter whether Constitutions or laws prescribe it or not. But a dark skin, or a trace, more or less distinct, of African descent, is no evidence of disloyalty. Nor is it any test of intelligence. It is simply a badge of that servitude which we have been compelled to abolish in order to preserve vitally national existence. Shall we consent to the restoration of the rebel communities under the two-fifths constitutional provision, which greatly enlarges the political power of their voting population, and under a system which excludes from the polls a loyal people, quite as intelligent as the same body of the whites, whose good will toward our Government has helped to save it from destruction, and whose friendliness will be no less indispensable in the future?

"It is no answer to this to say that some of the loyal States do not allow colored men to vote, and that we may as well undertake to exclude Ohio from the Union as to keep South Carolina from coming back with full Congressional powers. Such inequalities, when they have not endangered the loyalty of the States where they exist, and where they do not threaten hereafter to put in peril the public peace, may be safely left to the reviving spirit of justice in the northern people, stimulated to friendliness towards a race which has performed for us a useful national service. At any rate, we possess and claim no right to interfere with the electoral laws of loyal States. But the rebel States, as everybody admits, are in a condition which requires reconstruction or restoration, and which justifies guardianship and the strictest watchfulness on the part of our Government and people. Whatever safeguards may be found necessary for the permanent perfection of the national pledges of freedom, in spirit as well as in letter, to the enfranchised blacks, must be insisted upon.

"We would not lay undue stress upon the mere question of suffrage as a matter of right, or seem to insist upon giving to the freemen new powers, which, however valuable to them, might not be deemed to be imperatively demanded by public considerations affecting the whole country. We are aware, too, that there are other questions of administration, the solution of which is in the hands of the President and Congress, and which, if rightly settled, as we believe they will be, will go far to ensure for us tranquility and safety. We notice with great satisfaction that many inevitable abuses, which have been brought to light since the close of hostilities, have been promptly corrected by the civil and military powers. And we are confident that a wise and humane policy will do what can be done in the future to protect the colored loyalists from the spirit of hatred and oppression. But it will be found that the secret of our peace policy is precisely what was found to be the secret of our war policy, that is, the necessity of doing justice to this people and of placing in their hands the power to protect themselves, to secure their own rights and redress their own wrongs. To this complexion must it come at last. And the great industrial interests of the nation—its financial stability and honor—the progress of the next civilization which is to make this continent the peaceful abode of a hundred million self-supporting citizens, all demand that the work of statesmanship shall be wisely commenced and thoroughly carried on."

The Republican State Convention will be held at Worcester, on Thursday, September 14th, for the purpose of nominating candidates for Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of the Commonwealth, Treasurer, Auditor and Attorney General.

The New York Times' Washington special says Jeff Davis' health is better now than it has been for five years.

The New York Times' Fortress Monroe special, speaking of Jeff Davis, says Rising at an early hour, Mr. Davis takes a bath, then dresses, after which he is visited by the officer of the guard, the officer of the day and the medical attendant; he then breakfasts, after which he [illegible] and [illegible] room, converses with General Miles, who generally visits his quarters about that time with Dr. Craven, and then reads the Bible.

The Herald's Fortress Monroe correspondent, 20th, says, a second hour's walk inside the fort was yesterday afternoon permitted Jeff Davis. The same guard attended him as in his first walk, and the same reticence was kept up on his part and that of his guard. The salutary effect of this outdoor exercise on the spirits of Davis is already apparent. If continued, there can be no doubt of his health improving, if it is not wholly restored. Renewed rumors reach us of his speedy removal to Washington for trial, but no credit is given them.

J. Wilkes Booth's theatrical wardrobe was lately sold at auction in Canada. The articles were considerably injured by water, but they brought high prices.

General Dan. Sickles, Jas. T. Brady, John Van Buren and Fernando Wood were all mentioned among the candidates for Democratic Mayor of New York.

LAWS OF THE UNITED STATES,

Passed at the Second Session of the Thirty-eighth Congress.

CHAPTER LXXVIII.

An Act to amend an act entitled "an act to provide Internal Revenue to support the Government, to pay Interest on the public debt, and for other purposes," approved June thirtieth, eighteen hundred and sixty-four.

SEC. 8. And be it further enacted, That there shall be levied, collected, and paid on all crude petroleum or rock-oil that may be produced and sold, or removed for consumption or sale, a duty of one dollar on each and every barrel or not more than forty-five gallons; and all petroleum or rock oil that may be in possession of the producers at the place of production on the day when this act takes effect, shall be held and treated as if produced on that day; and the said duty shall be paid by the owner, agent, or superintendent of the well from which the petroleum or rock oil has been produced, within ten days after the time of rendering the account required to be rendered by law of petroleum or rock oil so chargeable with duty; and the said duty shall be a lien upon the same and on the well producing the same, with the buildings, fixtures, vessels, machinery, and tools, and on the lot or tract of land where the same may be, until the said duty shall be paid; and the person paying such duty, if other than the actual owner of said petroleum, shall have a lien on such petroleum for the repayment of the duties so advanced by him: Provided, That any person who shall produce petroleum or rock oil, and use or refine the same without having paid the duty as of resaid, shall, in addition to all other penalties and forfeitures, be liable to pay double the amount of duties as aforesaid thereon: Provided further, That when casks, barrels, or other vessels are used, holding more than forty five gallons, the excess shall be paid for at the rate of one dollar for every forty-five gallons.

SEC. 9. And be it further enacted, That every person who shall be the owner of any well producing petroleum or rock oil, or who shall have such well under his superintendence, either as agent for the owner or on his own account, and every person who shall use any well as aforesaid, either, as owner, agent, or otherwise, shall, from day to day, make true and exact entry, or cause to be entered in a book to be kept for that purpose, the number of barrels of crude petroleum or rock oil, barrelled or removed therefrom, or for sale, or for consumption; which book shall be open at all times when required for the inspection of the assessor, assistant assessor, collector, deputy collector or inspector, who may take any memorandum or transcript thereof; and on the first, seventh, and twenty first days of each and every month, or within five days thereafter, the owner agent or superintendent shall render to the assessor of the district an account in duplicate of the number of barrels of petroleum or rock oil so sold, and of the number of barrels removed for consumption or sale or storage, but before accounted for.

SEC. 10. And be it further enacted, That wherever, under the proviso to section one hundred and three, the addition to any fare shall amount to a sum involving the fraction of one cent, any person or company liable to the duty of two and one half per cent., as in said section provided, shall be authorized to add to such fare one cent in lieu of such fraction.

SEC. 11. And be it further enacted, That lucifer or friction matches, and cigar lights and wax tapers, may be transferred, without payment of duty, directly from the place of manufacture to a bonded warehouse established in conformity with law and treasury regulations, and upon the execution of such transportation bonds, or other security, as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe, and bonds to be taken by the collector in the district from which such removal is made, and may be withdrawn therefrom for consumption after affixing the stamps thereto, as provided by the act to which this act is an amendment, or may be removed therefrom for export to a foreign country without payment of duty or affixing stamps thereto, in conformity with the provisions of the act aforesaid, relating to the removal of distilled spirits, all the rules and regulations and conditions of which so far as applicable, shall apply to lucifer or friction matches, cigar lights, and wax tapers in bonded warehouse. And no drawback shall in any case be allowed upon any lucifer or friction matches, cigar lights, or wax tapers upon which any excise duty has been paid, or stamps affixed, either before or after they have been placed in bonded warehouse.

SEC. 12. And be it further enacted, That any person required by law to be licensed as a manufacturer of tobacco, snuff, or cigars, before said license is issued, shall give a bond to the United States in such sum as shall be required by the collector, and with one or more sureties to be approved by the collector conditioned that he will comply with all the requirements of law, in regard to any persons, firms, companies, or corporations engaged in the manufacture of tobacco, snuff, or cigars; that he will not manufacture nor employ others to manufacture tobacco, snuff, or cigars without first obtaining the requisite permit for such manufacture; that he will not engage in any attempt by himself or by collusion with others to defraud the government of any duty or tax on any manufacture of tobacco, snuff or cigars; that he will render truly and correctly all the returns, statements and inventories prescribed for manufacturers of tobacco, snuff and cigars, and will pay to the collector of the district all the duty or taxes which may or should be assessed and due on any tobacco, snuff, or cigars, so manufactured, and that he will not knowingly sell, purchase, or receive for sale any such tobacco, snuff, or cigars which has not been inspected, branded or stamped, as required by law, or upon which the tax has not been paid.

SEC. 13. And be it further enacted, That all persons and every person who shall engage or be concerned in the business of a lottery dealer without having first obtained a license so to do, under such rules and regulations as shall be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury, shall forfeit and pay a penalty of one thousand dollars, to be assessed by the assessor of the proper district and collected as assessed taxes are collected, subject, nevertheless, to the provisions of law relating to erroneous assessments, and shall, on conviction by any court of competent jurisdiction, suffer imprisonment for a period not exceeding a year, at the discretion of the court. And it shall be the duty of all managers and proprietors, and their [illegible] and true books of account wherein all their transactions shall be plainly and legibly set forth, which books of account shall at all reasonable times and hours be subject to the inspection of the assessor, assistant assessor, revenue agent, and inspector of the proper district; and any manager, proprietor, agent, or vender under this act, who shall refuse or prohibit such inspection of his or their books, as aforesaid, shall pay a penalty of one thousand dollars, or suffer imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year for every such offence.

SEC. 14. And be it further enacted, That the capital of any state bank or banking association which has ceased, or shall cease to exist, or which has become or shall be converted into a national bank, for all the purposes of the act to which this is an amendment, shall be assumed to be the capital as it existed immediately before such bank ceased to exist or was converted as aforesaid. And whenever the outstanding circulation of any bank, association, corporation, company, or person shall be reduced to an amount not exceeding five per centum of the chartered or declared capital existing at the time the same was issued, said circulation shall be free from taxation. And whenever any state bank or banking association has been converted into a national banking association, and such national banking association has assumed the liabilities of such state bank or banking association, including the redemption of its bills, such national banking association shall be held to make the required return and payment on the circulation outstanding, so long as such circulation shall exceed five per centum of the capital before such conversion of such state bank or banking association.

SEC. 15. And be it further enacted, That in any port of the United States in which there is more than one collector of internal revenue, the Secretary of the Treasury shall designate one of said collectors to have charge of all matters relating to the exportation of articles subject to duty under the laws to provide internal revenue; and at such ports as the Secretary of the Treasury may deem necessary there shall be an officer appointed by him to superintend all matters of exportation and drawback, under the direction of the collector, whose compensation therefor shall be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury, not exceeding, however, in any case, an annual rate of two thousand dollars, which, together with the office expenses, of such superintendence, shall not be included in the maximum of the aggregate expenses of the office of the said collector. And all books, papers, and documents in the bureau of drawback in the different ports relating to drawbacks, of duties paid under the internal revenue laws, shall be delivered to said collector of internal revenue.

SEC. 16. And be it further enacted, That all provisions of any former act inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed: Provided however, That no duty imposed by any previous act, which has become due or of which return has been or ought to be made, shall be remitted or released by this act, but the same shall be collected and paid and all fines and penalties heretofore incurred shall be enforced and collected, and all offences heretofore committed shall be punished as if this act had not been passed; and the commissioner of Internal revenue, under the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury, is authorized to make all necessary regulations and to prescribe all necessary forms and proceedings for the collection of such taxes and the enforcement of such fines and penalties for the execution of the provisions of this act.

SEC. 17. And be it further enacted, That the privilege of purchasing supplies of goods imported from foreign countries for the use of the United States, duty free, which now does or hereafter shall exist by provision of law, shall be extended, under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe, to all articles of domestic production which are subject to tax by the provisions of this act.

SEC. 18. And be it further enacted, That this act shall be in force and effect on and after the first day of April, in the year eighteen hundred and sixty five, unless otherwise provided by this act.

SEC. 19. And be it further enacted, That the Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized to appoint a commission, consisting of three persons, to inquire and report, at the earliest practicable moment, upon the subject of raising, by taxation, such revenue as may be necessary in order to supply the wants of the government, having regard to, and including, the sources from which such revenue should be drawn, and the best and most efficient mode of raising the same, and to report the form of a bill, and that such commission have power to inquire into the manner and efficiency of the system and method of collecting the internal revenue, and to take testimony in such manner and under such regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury. —We have made arrangements by which we shall be enabled to give, after to day, a full report of the proceedings of the Constitutional Convention now in session.

The London Times' correspondent, on board the Great Eastern, says the electrical condition of the cable is entirely satisfactory. Operators are able to send four words a minute with a low battery power, and it is thought the speed can be increased to eight or ten. The enormous weight on board the Great Eastern causes her to sink very low in the water, and she has the appearance of sagging amidships.

AMUSING.—To see a man, loudly and heavy-fogle around for two weeks in order to get a membership in the Constitutional Convention, and on a failure to get a Secretary's position, to see his chopfallen look when his resignation to the position of Assistant Secretary is unanimously accepted. Try again, historian, in some other crowd your's is still late-ing genius will certainly be recognized.

—Our readers, male and female, should look over the advertisement of the new dry goods firm which opened yesterday at the old stand of Daniels & Co., opposite our office. Their stock is well selected, and comprises everything wanted in the dry goods line by ladies or gents, at retail or wholesale. The new firm is composed of G. W. Bacon and S. F. And now ye seamen, we are coming, looking beautiful indeed:
We come [illegible] Father Abraham, four million freed—a host.
Where blooms the whitest cotton, and where stands the tasseled cane,
That where o'er Southern hill side, or marsh
o'er Southern plain,
There sobbed a little child are—the freeman's home is there—
Oh come hurry with us, stranger partake our cheerful fare.
Hear the welcome of our little ones, now
grouped around the door,
We are coming Father Abraham, four million
freemen more.
From out the hideous worrimonts of dark and hideous night,
There came a wail, as still as small, words
said, "Let there be light!"
"And there was light," who call formed the darkness to be receiving day—
Then hast lived for us, died for us—we won't [illegible] away—
Our hearts are broken [illegible] at the foot our Savior's cross to-day,
So, to meet thee, to greet thee, on that bright
and shining shore,
We are coming, Father Abraham, four million

Long and weary years I've served since—oh,
white man, let me say,
Cried the aged slave accept us, with beard of white and gray—
E'en as that poor man's meal went up and found a heavenly rest
From earthly toil and grief and pain, upon our Savior's crest,
So, to meet thee, to greet thee, on that bright
and shining shore,
We are coming, Father Abraham, four million
freemen more.

Marshal Canrobert succeeds the late Marshal Magnan as commander of the army of Paris. The army of Paris is composed of eighty-five thousand men in the national guards, and about one hundred and fifty thousand in the regular army.

Father O'Malley, Catholic priest at Newport, Rhode Island, has denounced the Fenian Brotherhood in the severest terms, and assured his flock that any of them who joined it should not only be excommunicated, but denied the rite of Christian burial by the Catholic Church.

Gambling is carried on at Saratoga to a most frightful extent, "hells" existing by the dozen at the place of health. More than $2,000,000 are invested in the pursuit, and the profits are upward of fifty per cent. No wonder that the business is brisk, for such dividends might tempt a conyesticke or a camp meeting, for the moment, from the right path.

An expert swimmer is giving exhibitions at Fall river. He suffers himself to be thrown into the water with his hands and feet tied, when he will release himself and perform other unprecedented feats afloat.

It is intimated that the reason why General Butler is retained in the service is that he may sit as a member of the military commission to try Jeff. Davis.

The Marquis and Marchioness of Drogheda had arrived at Portland, and will spend the next few months on a tour through this country.

Maine contributed more men during the late war, than Great Britain did to the allied army during the Russian war.

Isaac Taylor, author of a number of religious and metaphysical works, died at London lately, aged 77.

Artemus Ward is in New York, and appears to have given up his European trip for the present.

Edmund A Pollard, formerly editor of the Richmond Examiner, has gone to San Domingo to live.

Burglaries are unpleasantly frequent at Buffalo, New York, just now.

The rebel General Kirby Smith and party were captured by the Governor of Saltillo (Mexico) at Piedras Negras, on the 4th of July, and with them four cannon, 900 rifles, and 75 wagon loads of ammunition and provisions. The captured were released on parole.

Wm. Gilmore Simms is now publishing a little daily paper at Columbia, South Carolina.

The Newburyport Herald advocates female suffrage.

A movement is on foot by colored men to purchase the Charleston Mercury and publish it as an anti slavery journal. Some progress is being made, and money is being subscribed with a good prospect of success.

London, with a population of two and a half millions, is admirably governed for about $12,000,000 a year. Paris, with a population of a million and a half, is kept in perfect order for about $10,000,000 per annum. But New York, with a population of only eight hundred thousand, pays about $17,000,000 a year.

George F. Robinson, the soldier who saved Secretary Seward's life, was married on the 12th instant, at Springfield, Mass. He has also been presented with a farm out West, and may now settle down and enjoy himself, with reminiscences of his desperate encounter with Payne to enliven his winter evenings.

The London News publishes a table showing that $70,000,000 were sent by immigrants in this country to their friends in Great Britain, between the years 1848 and 1864. This was the real emigrant aid fund. During the four years of the war, over $9,000,000 were thus sent to that country. The News adds: "Here we have the explanation which our dry orators have been trying so hard not to see, of the emigration to America. While the great war in this Republic was going on, and they were ringing about preordained that it was a ruined, God forsaken country, these who had gone out from us and were living there, were sending home £1,800,000, to help their brothers, fathers and sisters' husbands to join them and share their prosperity."

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF COMPTROLLER OF THE CURRENCY,
WASHINGTON, April 17th, 1866.

WHEREAS, by satisfactory evidence, presented to the undersigned, it has been made to appear that "The First National Bank of Denver," in the city of Denver, in the county of Arapahoe and Territory of Colorado, has been duly organized under and according to the requirements of the Act of Congress entitled, "An Act to provide a National Currency, secured by a pledge of United States bonds, and to provide for the circulation and redemption thereof," approved June 3d, 1864, and has complied with all the provisions of said act required to be complied with before commencing the business of Banking under said act.

Now, therefore, I, Freeman Clarke, Comptroller of the Currency, do hereby certify that "The First National Bank of Denver," in the city of Denver, in the county of Arapahoe, and Territory of Colorado, is authorized to commence the business of Banking under the Act aforesaid.

In testimony whereof, witness my hand and seal of office, this seventeenth day of April, 1866.

And the President is hereby authorized and required forthwith, on the passage of this act, to issue his proclamation setting forth the provisions of this section, in which proclamation the President is requested to notify all deserters returning within sixty days as aforesaid, that they shall be pardoned on conditions of returning to their regiments and companies or to such other organizations as they may be assigned to, until they shall have served for a period of time equal to their original term of enlistment.

Sec. [22.] And be it further enacted, That the third section of the act entitled "An act [further] to regulate and provide for the enrolling and calling out the national forces, and for other purposes," approved July fourth, eighteen hundred and sixty-four, be, and the same is hereby, repealed.

Sec. [23.] And be it further enacted, That any person or persons enrolled in any sub district may, after notice of a draft, and before the same shall have taken place, cause to be mustered into the service of the United States such number of recruits, not subject to draft as they may deem expedient, which recruits shall stand to the credit of the persons thus causing them to be mustered in, and shall be taken as substitutes for such persons, or so many of them as may be drafted, to the extent of the number of such recruits, and in the order designated by the principals, at the time such recruits are thus as aforesaid mustered in.

Sec. [24.] And be it further enacted, That section fifteen of the act approved February twenty-fourth, eighteen hundred and sixty-four, entitled "An act for enrolling and calling out the national forces, and for other purposes," be, and the same is hereby, amended by inserting after the words "any civil magistrate," the words "or any person authorized by law to administer oaths."

Sec. [25.] And be it further enacted, That the Secretary of War is hereby authorized to detail one or more of the employees of the War Department for the purpose of administering the oaths required by law in the settlement of officers' accounts for clothing, camp, and garrison equipage, quartermaster's stores, and ordnance, which oaths shall be administered without expense to the parties taking them, and shall be as binding upon the persons taking the same, and if falsely taken, shall subject them to the same penalties, as if the same were administered by a magistrate or justice of the peace.

Sec. [26.] And be it further enacted, That acting assistant surgeons, contract surgeons, and surgeons, and commissioners on the enrolling boards, while in military service of the United States, shall hereafter be exempt from all liability to be drafted under the provisions of any act for enrolling and calling out the national forces.

Sec. [27.] And be it further enacted, That this act shall take effect from and after its passage: Provided, That nothing herein contained shall operate to postpone the pending draft, or interfere with the quotas assigned therefor.

This firm has attained a character for honorable dealing, second to none in the west, and we wish its new venture them to publish's use. See advertisement.

—We understand that Governor Evans is preparing for publication an answer to the outrageously unjust charges and foul implication against him by the Committee on the Conduct of the War. He will, as every body here believes, fully vindicate the great misrepresentations of this extraordinary document. There has been foul play in the way of deception practised on the committee to prejudice them against Mr. Evans and his testimony, and they have unworthily published a document so unjust and unfair that his defence will have clear, concise and triumphant refutation of its allegations.

—The grand defeated considers the Constitutional Convention a political abortion, and will do what he can to abort him accordingly. When the movement was first inaugurated, by historian said to many of your citizens that if your Governor did not go to the Convention he did not want to go. Ye Territorial Right Worthy Scribe wanted to be a delegate, and when Governor Evans positively refused to be a delegate, went to [illegible] using every means in his power to [illegible] in the Convention; and now, [illegible], is fully prepared to [illegible] political schemes. Look out for [illegible] programme on the part of the Gazette.

Welcome to the Soldiers.

The following toast was given, and response made made, at a celebration in Davidson's on the Fourth of July last:

"OUR BRAVE SOLDIERS:—May they be welcomed home by a grateful people; and may they long live, to enjoy peace and prosperity beneath the flag they have so nobly defended."

Welcome home brave Union soldiers,
Welcome, to your homes once more,
May your presence to the loved ones,
Peace and happiness restore.
Hang your rifles o'er the doorway,
Shatter your grape-shot and shell
Deadly weapons any longer
On our Country's battle-field.

We now welcome you as heroes,
Not for numbers have you been,
But for love we want forth bravely
Our loved Union to sustain;
For when freedom's boons assailed,
Calling on her friends to arm,
Lo! an army, in an instant,
From our hills and fire-sides sprang.

Yes, ye went forth, strong to battle,
For our Country and the right,
And to strike down that dread system
That so long had been her blight;
Left your workshops and your loved ones,
All home pleasures freely gave,
For the bloody field of battle,
And, perhaps, a soldier's grave.

Years have passed—four years of warfare,
Fraught to you with pain and toil;
But at length, from deep-fired treason,
Have you rescued our dear soil;
And foul slavery—that had given
To secession aid and power,
Has by freedom's proclamation
Reached at length her dying hour.

Once again, the white-winged angel
Spreads her pinions o'er our land,
And with spark'ling eyes the soldier
Hears the order to "disband."
And within ten thousand households
Those good tidings bring great joy,
As with happy smiles the mother
Welcomes back their "soldier boy."

But in this great joy and gladness,
Do not think that all can share,
For beside so many hearth-stones
There is still the "vacant chair."
Yet, while grieving for the absent,
Their rejoice at freedom's reign,
And feel thankful that their loved ones
Were not sacrificed in vain.

Welcome home, our own brave soldiers,
You have served your Country well,
As the record of your triumphs,
Upon honor will proudly tell;
Then, though absent and lost loved ones,
Our returning hearts should cheer,
Let us to the o'erflowing heroes
Give the tribute of a tear.

Six hundred and twenty-three members elect to the House of Commons show 370 liberals and 273 conservatives. The liberal gains will reach 21. Mr. Walker of the London Times was defeated in Berkshire.

A telegram from Valencia, on the 21st, states that the Atlantic cable was landed. All the earth communication, and two miles paid out to sea. The main shore would be laid on the 22d, if the wind continued fair.

Constance Kent pleads guilty to the murder of her brother, and has been sentenced to death. The scene in the court was very painful. The prisoner showed fortitude until the emotion of the judge, in pronouncing sentence, caused her to burst into tears. Every one was deeply affected. It was understood there was no likelihood of the sentence being carried out.

—New York, August 5—The Tribune's Mount Vernon correspondent, under date of July 31, says he has learned from a good source that some rebels bands of cavalry have lately crossed the Rio Grande with a view of entering the Mexican service. General Shelby is charged with their organization. Wade Hampton, who left Camargo with six hundred men, is to form part of the force. General De La Portilla has come to New York by order of his government, and will confer with Seward and give the reasons for him to write upon them.

New Orleans, August 1—The Houston (Texas) Telegraph, of the 27th ult., mentions the arrest of officers of Shelby's party. Shelby was encamped near Monterey, with four hundred or five hundred men. They are quiet, orderly, and well disciplined by the authorities. He sold his artillery and other plunder, and was trying to get a grant of land and other inducements to come.

New York, August 3—The steamer Glasgow was burned at sea on the night of last Monday. Twenty three passengers and five crew were all saved by the bark Rasmus.

New York, August 1—The Herald's Paris correspondent says the mission to France of Belmont, private secretary of August Belmont, Sen., appears to have resulted in a thorough withdrawal of the Mexican Mutual Association.

It is even asserted that he had no official communications other than the honorary one of delivering despatches to the Emperor of the Belgians. Belmont was received by an unimportant counselor of Legation, and goes out to Mexico as a private minister.

Also at Washington, all communication between the Secretary of State and Mr. Seward has ceased. Every letter or despatch for the latter is returned to the Secretary of State, unopened.

It is reported at General Halleck's office that Generals Terrell and Wade, who left Richmond a few days ago, and were last heard from at Lynchburg, have been murdered by guerrillas.

Advices from Santa Fe to the 15th ult. state that Indian depredations are of frequent occurrence. Two Mexicans were killed near Las Vegas, and a party of Navajoes attacked Fort Wingate, but were repulsed. Lieutenant Colonel Chivington, the Chief Quartermaster, and Captain Cavy, Commissary, were expected to arrive at Fort Union on the 20th ult. Colonel Cooper, with the 1st New Mexico Volunteers, was ordered to Fort Stanton, on the Rio Bonito, to relieve Colonel Nicholas, who was ordered to Fort Union.

...ristian Governor
a letter to the Gazette, to
...ntemptuous to...
...ther law, toward the First Colorado
Militia. Of course it was perfectly natural that the American should not understand the letter. In his most sublime ...ignorance he could not be expected to know that the Governor had no power to issue warrants in payment of a ...Militia; that before the Legislature ...to meet such claim, or even granted to ...the Executive the power to issue such warrants. The Governor says, truly, ...warrants, or money would not be worth a cent; and ye Editor, with his usual profundity, would, doubtless, ...the Governor, on account of their worthlessness, and his refusal the Executive power should be ...them. We were one of this Regiment, and, consequently, feel perhaps as much interest in the gaining point off as any other man. But, this cry of wrong-doing ...against the Executive, in order to ...him to do wrong, and always ...to that a pretext for denouncing him, may occur, is not according to our ideas of right and justice. As the warrants, if issued, would be ...of the Governor is plainly to be seen in every word of the plan, which has been conceived for no other purpose save to condemn a man, who, ...this little matter of trying to defend himself (company) against the ...attacks of the Gazette, (sanctimonious,) has never deviated in the slightest manner from the paths of good sense, ...and honor.

"For the benefit of the members of the ...regiment, we here insert the Governor's letter, which fully and truly explains his position:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
COLORADO TERRITORY, Aug. 2, 1865.

To the Editor of the Gazette:—

SIR:—In your paper of this morning you have an article calculated, I hope unintentionally, to create a false impression, in regard to the course of the Territorial administration towards the Colorado Militia.

"I have fully appreciated the justice of their payment, and made every effort to procure it. The War Department ...refused to pay, on the ground that General Moonlight raised these forces without authority from the Department. Yet it has approved of General Moonlight's course, and may yet see the propriety of making the payment. The Territory ought, undoubtedly, to pay the Militia, and look to the General Government for remuneration. But the law on the subject only authorized the use of "the Military funds" for the purposes, which has been ordered by the Military "board" to be used when collected. This is all that could be done under the law.

"The old Militia law authorizing the Governor to draw warrants on the Treasury has been repealed; and though the Militia organized and mustered in under it, are entitled to the pay it provides for, the authority to issue warrants has been revoked.

"No reasonable or just person will ask me to act without authority, for such acts would do no good, and the warrants so issued would not be worth a cent.

"I have done all that was in my ...to procure pay for the Colorado Militia, who have, under personal privations and fatigue, so nobly and patriotically gone forth in our defense; and having only done my duty in the matter I claim no special credit for it.

"Hoping that a disposition to act fairly, arrive at the truth, and to work together for the good of the Militia and the Territory will prevail.

I am yours, &c.,
JOHN EVANS,
Governor, C. T."

As to the question of veracity that ye historian takes between himself and ...Governor, we submit, in the latter's absence, leave it to the public, who, knowing the character of the man assailed, and the want of character of his assailant, must be the judges. But let us ...inquiry down, to business in the matter, and look at this question of paying off the militia as it really is, under the existing as well as the repealed militia laws.

If the First Regiment of the militia had been organized under the old law, which we claim to the contrary, there ...condition for this outcry against the Governor, as on the muster-out of the Regiment each man received a certificate of the amount of his services given by the legal authorities. The Auditor, then, would be the one to ...law, the new law repeals the old one, and will not admit of his auditing the claims, or issuing the warrants, as was in the former law provided for. It is a very easy matter to prove this. Let some ...gentlemen who are ...in ill feeling between the Militia and the Governor, ...a suit in ...against the Auditor, and see if they can find the legal ...authority ...Auditor has already been looked into, and, ...the salaries ...of the Militia ...the Governor, ...which is known to be his ...ambition, ...not attempt it. Further, ...this, the latest gentlemen has acknowledged that the new law is ...certificates for ...provided in said new ...approved and went ...day of February, ...of the Militia ...in previ... was Company ...Whatever ...down, ...in that ...payment, ...readers ...who ...

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF COMPTROLLER OF THE CURRENCY,
WASHINGTON, April 17th, 1865.

WHEREAS, by satisfactory evidence, presented to the undersigned, it has been made to appear that "The First National Bank of Denver," in the city of Denver, in the county of Arapahoe and Territory of Colorado, has been duly organized under and according to the requirements of the Act of Congress entitled, "An Act to provide a National Currency, secured by a pledge of United States bonds, and to provide for the circulation and redemption thereof," approved June 3d, 1864, and has complied with all the provisions of said Act required to be complied with before commencing the business of Banking under this Act.

Now, therefore, I, Freeman Clarke, Comptroller of the Currency, do hereby certify that "The First National Bank of Denver," in the city of Denver, in the county of Arapahoe, and Territory of Colorado, is authorized to commence the business of Banking under the Act aforesaid.

In testimony whereof, witness my hand and seal of office, this seventeenth day of April, 1865.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

THIRD SERIES.

$230,000,000

The undersigned, the General Land Office Agent for the sale of United States securities, offers to the public the Sixth Issue of Treasury Notes, bearing seven per centum per annum interest, payable gold, known as the

7-30 LOAN.

These notes are issued under date of July 1st, 1865, and are payable three years from that date in currency, or are convertible at the option of the holder into

U. S. 6-20 Six per cent.

GOLD-BEARING BONDS

These bonds are now worth a handsome premium, and are exempt, at real estate or other Bonds, from all State and Municipal taxation, which is in some cases three per cent. per annum (or more), and liability to have invested upon other property. The interest is payable semi-annually by coupons attached to each note, which may be cut off and sold to any bank or banker.

The Treasury Department announces that

One cent per day on a $10 note,
Two cents per day on a $100 note,
Ten cents per day on a $500 note,
20 cents per day on a $1,000 note,
One dollar per day on a $5,000 note

Notes of all the denominations will be issued to subscribers.

The Notes of the Third Series are precisely similar in form to those of the Seventh Series already issued, except that the Government reserves the right of paying interest on the Sixth Series instead of the Seventh, if it shall be thought for the interest of the Government so to do.

The difference between the Sixth Series and the Seventh Series consists only in the time when the interest falls due.

The Seventh Series bears interest from August 15th, and consequently will pay interest on the 15th of August, 1865.

The Sixth Series bears interest from July 1st, and consequently will pay interest on the 1st of July, 1865.

The Seventh Series will be issued in exchange for the Sixth Series, at par, without charge, at any time before the 1st of July, 1865, at the option of the holder.

The Sixth Series will be issued in exchange for the Seventh Series, at par, without charge, at any time after the 1st of July, 1865, at the option of the holder

ARTICLE V.

LEGISLATURE.

Section 1. The Legislative power of this State shall be vested in a Senate and House of Representatives, which shall be called "The Legislative Assembly." The enacting clause of all bills shall be, "The people of the State of Colorado represented in Legislative Assembly, do enact as follows." And no laws shall be enacted except by bill.

Sec. 2. The Senate shall consist of thirteen members, and the House of Representatives of twenty-six members, which respective numbers may be increased, not more than one fifth, after the year 1877, and every six years thereafter, in the same ratio to the number of the Senate and House of Representatives, which respectively members shall then be elected. Members of the senate shall not be under twenty-five years of age, nor members of the house of representatives under twenty one years of age, and they shall be elected at the regular annual election, by the electors of the respective counties or districts into which the State may from time to time be divided: Provided, That for the first election, and until the state is so divided into districts by law, the apportionment for election purposes shall be the same as now established by the Legislature of the Territory of Colorado.

Sec. 3. No person shall be a member of the legislative assembly who is not at the time such election a citizen of the United States, and a resident and a qualified voter of the county or district for which he is elected.

Sec. 4. The legislative assembly may designate by law what class or classes of electors, and what shall be the qualifications of such electors, and what shall be disqualifications for voting, and what shall be the penalty or punishment for bribery or other crimes shall exist as a forfeiture to such office.

Sec. 5. Each House when assembled shall choose its own officers (the President of the Senate only excepted); shall establish its own rules, and shall be the judge of the elections, returns, and qualifications of its own members; but neither House shall, without the consent of the other, sit for more than three days, nor to any place other than that in which it may be sitting.

Sec. 6. Each House shall keep and publish a journal of its proceedings. All bills and joint resolutions shall be passed by a vote of yeas and nays, which shall be entered upon the journal, upon the passage thereof.

Sec. 7. Bills may originate in either House, but may be rejected or amended by the other. A majority of a quorum in each House, except in the legislature, shall be necessary to pass any bill or joint resolution.

Sec. 8. Any member of either House shall have the right to protest against any bill or resolution; and such protest shall without delay or alteration be entered on the journal.

Sec. 9. Every bill shall be read by sections, on three several days in each House; unless in case of emergency two-thirds of the House where such bill may be pending shall, by a vote of yeas and nays, deem it expedient to dispense with this rule, but the reading of a bill by sections on its final passage shall in no case be dispensed with.

Sec. 10. No private or local bill which may be passed by the Legislature shall embrace more than one subject and that shall be expressed in the title.

Sec. 11. The Legislative Assembly shall not pass local or special laws, in any of the following enumerated cases, that is to say:

Regulating the jurisdiction and duties of justices of the peace and of constables;

For the punishment of crimes and misdemeanors.

Regulating the practice in courts of justice.

Providing for changing the venue in civil and criminal cases.

For laying out, opening and working on highways, and for the election or appointment of supervisors.

Summoning and empanneling grand and petit jurors, and providing for their compensation.

Regulating county and township business.

Regulating the election of county and township officers, and their compensation.

For the assessment and collection of taxes for state, county and township purposes.

Providing for supporting common schools, and for the preservation of school funds.

In relation to interest on money.

Granting divorces.

Providing for opening and conducting the elections of state, county or township officers. But in all the cases herein enumerated, and in all other cases where a general law can be made applicable, all laws shall be general and of uniform operation throughout the state.

Sec. 12. Provision may be made by general law for bringing suit against the state.

Sec. 13. All laws of a general nature shall have a uniform operation throughout the state, and no law of a general nature shall be enacted until after the same shall have been published in full in the state newspaper, and the same shall not take effect until ninety days after the adjournment of the session at which it was passed.

Sec. 14. No member of the legislative assembly shall be liable in any civil action or criminal prosecution whatever for words spoken in debate.

Sec. 15. Senators shall be elected for two years and representatives for one year, at the first general election, and thereafter the election shall be held on the first Monday in November, [illegible] election, except the senators first elected, who shall, at the first session of the Legislative Assembly, decide by lot that six of their number shall hold their office respectively for one year, and six for two years, and all their successors shall be elected for the term of two years. In case of vacancies occurring in the senate or house of representatives, the governor shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies for the unexpired term.

Sec. 16. The sessions of the legislative assembly shall be annual, and the general session shall commence on the first Monday of January.

Sec. 17. The sessions of the Legislative Assembly shall be held annually, at the capital of the state, at such time in the year as shall be provided by law, except the first session, which shall be held at such time as shall be provided by this convention. But, in the case of the Governor, the public welfare shall require it, he may at any time, by proclamation, call a special session.

Sec. 18. All votes of members of either House shall be viva voce, and the votes of each member voting in every legislative assembly shall be entered on the journal.

Sec. 19. Any bill may originate in either House of the legislative assembly, and may be amended, altered or rejected by the other; but all bills for raising revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives, but the Senate may propose amendments as on other bills.

Sec. 20. All members of either House shall be necessary to constitute a quorum to do business, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and may compel the attendance of absent members, in such manner and under such penalties as may be prescribed by law.

Sec. 21. Each House shall choose its own officers, and the Legislative Assembly shall determine the mode of counting the votes for all officers elected by the people.

Sec. 22. The Legislative Assembly shall provide by law for the election of a secretary of state, treasurer, auditor of state, superintendent of public instruction, attorney general, reporter of decisions of the supreme court, and district attorneys, who shall severally hold their offices for two years from the first Monday in January next after their election, and until their successors are elected and qualified. Vacancies in said offices shall be filled by appointment by the governor, until the next general election for members of the legislative assembly, when they shall be filled by election.

Sec. 23. The legislative assembly shall provide by law for the election of a state librarian, who shall hold his office for two years, and shall perform such duties as may be required by law.

Sec. 24. The legislative assembly shall have no power to grant any extra compensation to any public officer, agent or servant after the service shall have been rendered, or the contract entered into, nor to grant by appropriation or otherwise any sum of money to any individual, except for moneys due for services rendered the state, without previously providing by law for the payment thereof; nor to authorize the payment of any claim against the state which shall have been audited and allowed more than two years before the presentation of the same to the legislature for allowance, unless the presentation of such claim shall have been prevented by the existence of war.

Sec. 25. The legislative assembly shall have power to establish and regulate all such courts as may be necessary and proper, and to abolish any court created by its authority, except the supreme court, and may increase or diminish the number of the judges of the district courts, and may provide for the appointment of additional judges of the supreme court, whenever the business of said court shall require it, but no such additional judge shall be appointed except upon the concurrence of two-thirds of the members elected to each House. Judgment in cases of impeachment, shall not extend further than removal from office, and disqualification to hold any office of honor, profit or trust under the State; but the party impeached shall be liable to indictment, trial and punishment according to law.

Sec. 26. The judicial powers of the State, both as to matters of law and equity, shall be vested in a supreme court, district courts, probate courts and justices of the peace, and such other and inferior courts as may hereafter be created by law.

Sec. 27. The supreme court, except in cases otherwise provided for in this constitution, shall have appellate jurisdiction only, which shall be coextensive with the state, but in no case removed to the supreme court shall a trial by jury be allowed. The supreme court shall have a general superintending control over all inferior courts; it shall have power to issue writs of habeas corpus, mandamus, injunction, and other remedial writs, and to hear and determine the same.

Sec. 28. The supreme court shall, for the term of three (3) years and thereafter until the legislative assembly shall otherwise provide, consist of three judges, to be elected by the electors of the state at large, who shall hold their offices for three years and until their successors are elected and qualified, except the first judges of the supreme court, to be designated as such, one of their number shall hold his office for one (1) year, one for two years, and one for three years, as shall certify the result to the secretary of state as soon as convenient, that the term of office of one judge may expire every year. Any vacancy happening in any of said offices by death, resignation or otherwise, shall be filled by appointment by the governor until the next general election for members of the legislative assembly, when the same shall be filled by election for the unexpired term. Any judge may be removed from office by concurrent resolution of both houses of the legislative assembly, two-thirds of the members elected to each house voting for and concurring therein, for willful neglect of duty, or other reasonable cause, which may not be sufficient ground for impeachment; but before such removal shall take effect, the cause thereof shall be entered on the journal, and the party complained of shall have notice thereof, accompanied by a copy of the complaint, and an opportunity of being heard in his defense.

Sec. 29. The supreme court shall consist of three judges, a majority of whom shall be necessary to form a quorum or pronounce a decision. The supreme court shall appoint its own clerk, who shall hold his office for four years, unless sooner removed by the court, and whose duties and compensation shall be prescribed by law. The supreme court shall hold its sessions at the seat of government, and at such other place or places as may be prescribed by law.

Sec. 30. The state shall be divided into judicial districts, in each of which there shall be elected by the electors thereof one judge of the district court, who shall reside within the district for which he may be elected. The district courts shall have original jurisdiction in all cases at law and equity, and such appellate jurisdiction as may be provided by law. They shall have the power of issuing writs of habeas corpus, mandamus, injunction, quo warranto, certiorari, and all other writs necessary to carry into effect their orders, judgments and decrees, and may hear and determine the same. They shall have such other jurisdiction, original and appellate, as may be provided by law. The judges of the district courts shall be ex officio conservators of the peace throughout the state. They shall, after their election, reside in the district for which they were elected during their continuance in office. The first district judges elected under this constitution shall hold their offices for the terms of two, three and four years, respectively, as designated by lot, and thereafter the term of office shall be four years. The first election of district judges shall be held at the general election in the year 1876, and the terms of office of the judges elected at said election shall commence on the first Monday of January next after their election. Vacancies happening in the office of district judge shall be filled by appointment by the governor until the next general election for members of the legislative assembly, when the same shall be filled by election for the unexpired term. The judges of the district courts may hold courts for each other, and shall do so when required by law. They shall receive for their services such compensation as may be provided by law, which shall not be increased or diminished during the term for which they are elected.

Sec. 31. The legislative assembly shall provide by law for the election of a district attorney in each judicial district, who shall hold his office for two years, and shall perform such duties and receive such compensation as may be prescribed by law.

Sec. 32. In case the office of any judge shall become vacant before the expiration of the term for which he was elected, the vacancy shall be filled by appointment by the governor, until his successor is duly elected and qualified, and such successor shall be elected at the next general election for members of the legislative assembly that occurs more than thirty days after the vacancy shall have occurred.

Sec. 33. The legislative assembly shall provide by law for the election by the qualified electors of the state, at the general election to be held in the year 1876, and every four years thereafter, of a clerk of the supreme court, who shall hold his office for the term of four years, and until his successor is elected and qualified. He shall receive such compensation as may be provided by law, which shall not be increased or diminished during the term for which he is elected. He shall keep the seal of the supreme court, and shall perform such duties as may be required by law or by the rules of the court.

Sec. 34. The legislative assembly shall provide by law for the election by the qualified electors of the state, at the general election to be held in the year 1876, and every four years thereafter, of a reporter of the decisions of the supreme court, who shall hold his office for the term of four years, and until his successor is elected and qualified. He shall receive such compensation as may be provided by law, which shall not be increased or diminished during the term for which he is elected. He shall prepare the decisions of the court for publication, and perform such other duties as may be required by law or by the rules of the court.

Sec. 35. The legislative assembly shall provide by law for the election by the qualified electors of the state, at the general election to be held in the year 1876, and every four years thereafter, of an attorney general, who shall hold his office for the term of four years, and until his successor is elected and qualified. He shall receive such compensation as may be provided by law, which shall not be increased or diminished during the term for which he is elected. He shall perform such duties as may be required by law or by the rules of the court.

Sec. 36. The legislative assembly shall provide by law for the election by the qualified electors of the state, at the general election to be held in the year 1876, and every four years thereafter, of a superintendent of public instruction, who shall hold his office for the term of four years, and until his successor is elected and qualified. He shall receive such compensation as may be provided by law, which shall not be increased or diminished during the term for which he is elected. He shall perform such duties as may be required by law or by the rules of the court.

Sec. 37. The legislative assembly shall provide by law for the election by the qualified electors of the state, at the general election to be held in the year 1876, and every four years thereafter, of a treasurer, who shall hold his office for the term of four years, and until his successor is elected and qualified. He shall receive such compensation as may be provided by law, which shall not be increased or diminished during the term for which he is elected. He shall perform such duties as may be required by law or by the rules of the court.

Sec. 38. The legislative assembly shall provide by law for the election by the qualified electors of the state, at the general election to be held in the year 1876, and every four years thereafter, of an auditor of state, who shall hold his office for the term of four years, and until his successor is elected and qualified. He shall receive such compensation as may be provided by law, which shall not be increased or diminished during the term for which he is elected. He shall perform such duties as may be required by law or by the rules of the court.

Sec. 39. The legislative assembly shall provide by law for the election by the qualified electors of the state, at the general election to be held in the year 1876, and every four years thereafter, of a secretary of state, who shall hold his office for the term of four years, and until his successor is elected and qualified. He shall receive such compensation as may be provided by law, which shall not be increased or diminished during the term for which he is elected. He shall perform such duties as may be required by law or by the rules of the court.

Sec. 40. The legislative assembly shall provide by law for the election by the qualified electors of the state, at the general election to be held in the year 1876, and every four years thereafter, of a superintendent of public instruction, who shall hold his office for the term of four years, and until his successor is elected and qualified. He shall receive such compensation as may be provided by law, which shall not be increased or diminished during the term for which he is elected. He shall perform such duties as may be required by law or by the rules of the court.

Sec. 41. — Josh Billings says "a reliable set of bowels is of more value than any quantity of brains."

— Do not forget the great exhibition at the Denver theatre to night. An entire new programme is out.

QUARTERLY MEETING To-MORROW.—Service at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. Preaching by Rev. O. A. Willard. Sacrament at close of morning service.

— The Atchison Champion of the 4th Inst., says there are now on the levee eighty five wagons, loaded and ready for the trip across the plains. They are waiting for better weather and roads.

— We give a large portion of our paper to-day to the publication of the Constitution now being framed in this city, and consequently do not have space for our usual Saturday's miscellany.

— The copperhead party of Iowa, having issued a call for a convention, without a party name, are called "Possums," by the loyal citizens of that State. Snakes generally 'possums, in dog-days.

— Geo. W. Parkins, Esq., the pioneer Judge of Colorado, has opened a land and mining agency office at 109 Broadway, N. Y. Our citizens, who may have business of this kind in New York, will not fail to remember the Judge.

— The first soldier mustered into the United States service to suppress the rebellion is still in service, and on duty at Washington. He was sworn in April 15, 1861, as Orderly Sergeant of the Washington Light Infantry, his name is Sumner Coleman.

— That splendid six horse team belonging to the Overland Stage Line, that used to be a pendant for running away and everything generally, has, we understand, taken off the mountain and [illegible] where its peculiar talent may be [illegible] damaging.

— The Hernandez troupe gives a performance to-night at the People's Theatre. "Uncle Tom" is the prominent piece, to be followed by the "Day after the Wedding." A pleasing variety of singing and dancing, and closes with "Bombastes Furioso." The great burlesque play of "Cinderella," that ran so long last Winter, is in preparation and will be produced next week.

EXTRA.—The leading dogs have been holding a meeting in New York to [illegible] for their idol, Jeff. [illegible] who [illegible] will be immolated upon the altar of justice. — The public know as little with regard as to "General Grant's next movement" as they did a year ago when he was in Virginia. The Lieutenant General retains his old habits, keeps his own counsel, lets every correspondent invent a new plan for his movements, and goes precisely where he pleases.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?—A benighted [illegible] Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, [illegible] advertising periodical entitled "Queen of the West." It is [illegible] sheet of the kind, [illegible] in its title! Here [illegible] miles further [illegible] have a considerable people, and "right smart chance" of [illegible], whilst away over yonder on the Pacific, twelve hundred miles still further toward sun down, there are cities that eclipse Pittsburg out of sight in business. Wake up, Mr. Rip-Van-Winkle, and change your name.
